FIFTEEN CENTS

Mayor's salary Board seeks new ordinance

About 20 Antioch residents, who probably expected the village board to take action on the ordinance proposed by Trustee Don Amundsen at the last board committee meeting, raising the part-time mayor's salary to $11,000, heard Trustee Edgar Simonsen made a move directing Village Attorney Andrew Lynch to draw up a new salary ordinance, to be presented to the board when the information collected at committee meetings has been taken into consideration.

According to Mayor Haley a salary figure will be included in the ordinance and Simonsen, upon being questioned after the meeting, said that the mayor's and the trustees' salaries would be in the ordinance, after input from village committee meetings and from the recommendations of the committee being formed to study the question of full-time mayor - business administrator need in Antioch.

The vagueness of the whole thing was questioned by Claudette Skvarce who was called out of order by Mayor Haley because the topic of her questions was not on the agenda.

Trustee Bill Seemann, who along with Simonsen is in charge of forming the committee to look into the full-time mayoral proposal, said that he would choose, with the mayor's approval, nine names from a list given him by Trustee Amundsen and a list submitted by Melody Fahrner.

Seemann also said that he would be temporary chairman until the committee could be formed and its goals set, at which time, he expected them to elect their own chairman.

As far as the time element in forming the committee, Seemann stated that it would be as soon as possible.

Upon seeing the list that Amundsen had given Seemann, Fahrner complained that the list was "stacked" because it had too many prominent people on it and did not include enough of the village's "ordinary" people.

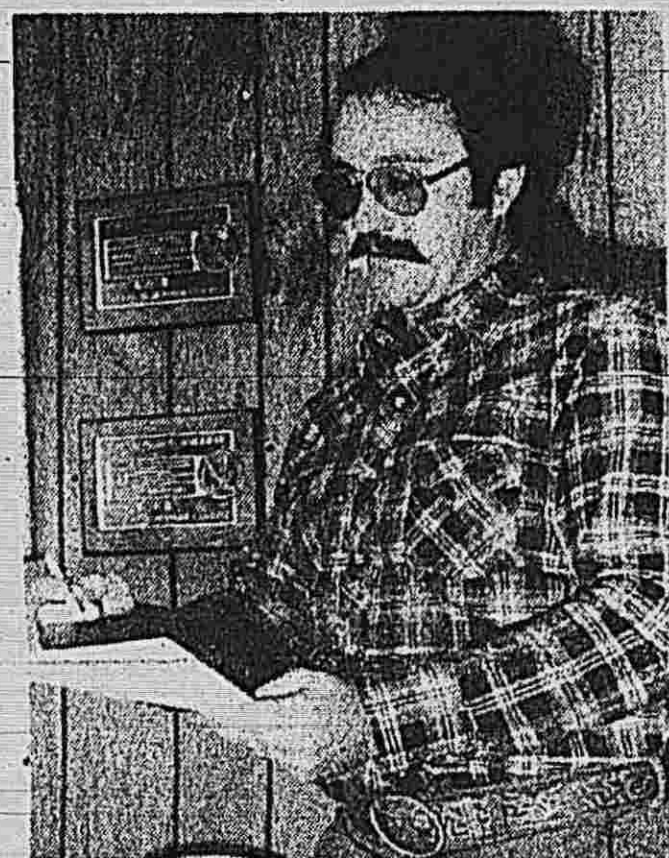

Fahrner presented the board with a petition signed by over 200 residents, asking the board not to make any changes in the mayor's salary or position until after it received recommendations from the committee being formed.

mittee in formation.

The board accepted Fahrner's petition without comment except to tell her that their acceptance did not mean they would necessarily follow its recommendations.

With Trustee Amundsen absent, the rest of the board unanimously approved Simonsen's motion.

Cops Trail Two Thieves To Fox Lake

Two runaway 16 year olds, from out of the area, were arrested by the Antioch Police Dept. with the aid of the Fox Lake Police Dept., for the burglarizing of two homes in the village of Antioch on Tuesday, Dec. 30.

According to Antioch Police Chief Chuck Miller, the reports to his department by concerned neighbors led to a chase and investigation that began at 4:55 p.m. on Dec. 30.

The first neighbors alerted the police to the fact that they had seen two youths tampering with a home that was on the police department's burglar watch, a police check given the homes of residents who are out of town.

The other neighbors were able to give the police a description of the youths that they had seen prior to the burglary at the Ben Franklin Store. A check with the store revealed that the youths fitting the given descriptions had cashed currency there and taken a cab off the premises. A check with the cab company revealed that the youths were at the time on the way to the Fox Lake train station.

The Antioch police then alerted the Fox Lake police who apprehended the two as they were getting out of the cab in the area of the train station.

Antioch officers Lt. Fisher and Sgt. Watkins went to Fox Lake and took over from there and after questioning, the two 16 year olds admitted to the reported burglary and also another one committed in the village 10 days previously.

Items taken in the burglary were found in the youths' possession.

One of the boys was released in the custody of his parents and the other was placed in the Lake County Youth Home pending a court appearance.

5 Run For Mayor

Five people have already announced their candidacy for mayor in April's election, Mike Haley, Ray Toft, Bruce Jablonski, Henry Gillman and Phil Burke and there is a while until Jan. 26 before all candidacy papers must be filed.

Two formidable independent candidates that have taken out papers for Antioch's top position are Bruce Jablonski, a well known and civically active Antioch resident, and former mayor, Ray Toft, who was a scant 60 votes away from Mike Haley's job when the votes were tallied in the last election.

Jablonski, who has been an Antioch businessman for the last 12 years, operates Erickson's Sewing Center along with his wife Nancy.

He has spent four years on the board of the Antioch Grade School, where his two children are in attendance.

"I feel that my service on this board, whose budget and staff managing scopes far exceed those of the village board, gives me the needed experience for the mayor's job," says Jablonski.

He is also a registered paramedic, in his eighth year of service with the Antioch Rescue Squad and has served under former mayors Ray Toft and Robert Wilton on the planning commission.

Jablonski is not for a paid full time mayor and feels that if full time administration is warranted, a business administrator is what would then be needed.

He does not agree with the growth philosophy that "bigger is better" but is for "controlled growth" and feels "committed to bringing in more light industry into the village to boost the sagging local job market, because of the high cost of travel, which will in turn increase housing starts in the village and bring added revenue to the community."

Ray Toft, who was Antioch's mayor from 1965 to 1973, is a native son who was for many years a local businessman, owning a service station and dealing in real estate.

He is now an owner of the Kenosha County Speedway and the Lake Geneva Raceway.

Toft, who is married and has two married daughters, also served on the grade school board and was a village trustee for four years before he served as mayor.

He says, "I am concerned about the amount of money the village is spending. I ran a conservative village when I was mayor."

On the subject of finances, Toft said he is more than satisfied with the ordinance giving the mayor $4,000 per year and will not accept the balance of the proposed $11,000 mayoral salary if he is elected.

He feels that the village does not need a business administrator at the present time but in the future, if the financial position of the village changes, some investigation and input from the people might be called for.

"I don't feel that the present administration is listening to the people and letting them know what is going on," says Toft.

He goes on to say, "It seems like Mayor Haley is running the town by himself instead of letting the trustees do it."

When it comes to the commercial complex controversy, he says that he is not adverse to new business coming into town as long as it is not financed by the sale of revenue bonds "Which is unfair to the rest of the merchants," and he also feels that there is room enough behind the east side of Main St. for the commercial complex to locate or other new businesses to establish themselves.

Car stickers available

The Antioch village stickers are available at the village hall from now until Feb. 15 for a $10 fee.

All car owning residents of the village of Antioch are required to purchase a sticker with a $2 penalty being imposed on late purchasers.

The village stickers used to be good from January to January but this year's will be good until May 1, 1982.

Since the change in the purchase deadline of the state license plates, the board has lengthened the time element for this year's sticker to allow residents to put them on in the warmer weather.

AARP greets the New Year

by BERNICE BERNAU
(356-5649)

The Antioch Chapter 387 of the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) will hold their first meeting in the new Antioch Area Senior Center, 817 Holbek Dr., (right in back of the Antioch Fire Station) on Tuesday, Jan. 13, at 1 p.m.

Several of the members registered to have lunch there that day, at noon. Anyone who would like to make a reservation to eat there should call the center at 395-7120 by Friday, Jan. 9. To date, 90 members have registered. The Catholic Charities sponsor the lunch. An anonymous donation is requested. Carol Easley is the coordinator.

Members are reminded that the $2 per person dues for 1981 are payable at this time. A person must belong to the National Chapter to be eligible for membership in the local chapter.

There will be a board meeting before the business meeting.

Anyone who would like to, is welcome to arrive anytime after 9:30 a.m. and visit with their friends. At meal time, they can sit in the game room until lunch is over, and then join their fellow club members.

Thirty men and women attended the Antioch Area Senior Citizen's New Year's Eve party last Wednesday afternoon, sponsored by the Catholic Charities. George Tideman was dressed as "Father Time 1980" in a flowing white robe and long white hair and whiskers. He was "booed" by many. Everyone welcomed little baby "New Year 1981" Tony Puleo, who was pushed in on a wheelchair. He wore long white underwear and a diaper and a top hat covered his head. In his mouth, was a large pacifier that he was sucking. Count down was 2:30 p.m. Everyone wore a party hat and tooted a whistle and shouted "Happy New Year". A few even went around kissing or shaking hands and wishing their friends a "Happy New Year."

Twelve children of the Richard Wolff family accompanied their parents, Dick and Nancy Wolff of Lindenhurst, in playing several of the old and some of the new songs that they enjoyed. The children range in age from about five years to 20. Most play more than one instrument, and are also very good singers as well as musicians. Dad plays the drums and Mom, the piano, as well as directs them. Anyone looking for a good band, should contact the "Wolves", as they are known. Whenever the children sang, everyone stopped dancing and listened to the youngster. Virginia Henry, not a member of the family, but Godmother to four of the Wolff children, blends the sound.

During the afternoon the folks nibbled on potato chips, mints and sugared raisins. After "New Year" they partied on chips and dips, a relish tray with dips, open face sandwiches, crackers and cheese, cookies, donuts and cake with coffee and punch. It was a great way to end the old year and welcome in the New Year.

CORRECTION

In the article on Phil Burke's candidacy for mayor in Dec. 24's Antioch News, Burke was quoted as being in opposition to gun control and tax reduction. This was a typographical error and should have read "in opposition to gun control and for tax reduction."

Art Dilser

Spec. Four Art F. Dilser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald C. Dilser of 504 Diana Ave., Lake Villa, participated in "Certain Rampart", a field training exercise held in the center of Batavia, West Germany, in September.

The purpose of the exercise was to give allied military units the opportunity to train together in realistic tactical environments.

Consider Safety In Winter Sports

by CAROLE RISK

Now with the holiday festivities in back of us and the snow on the ground, with more to come, it is definitely winter sport time. The Antioch area has as much to offer at this time of the year as it does in the summer, and or summer recreation offerings are rather reknown.

There is lighted ice skating at Osmond Park. Just take Lake St. to Hillendale and follow to the pond. Space is provided to park your car, if you prefer to drive over. Please note it is not safe to skate at the settling pond by the sewer plant. Williams Park has sledding, and the hills are a lot of fun. This park is by the swimming pool.

These parks are for everyone in the township to use. Within 15 minutes there is skiing at Wilmot, with little hills for beginners and bigger hills for the more experienced. If you like to tube or toboggan take a ride over to Steitz's resort just off Grass Lake Rd.

Now I come to snowmobiling, which is a great family sport, young and old can enjoy it together. There can be a lot of abuse with this sport and a lot of people rightfully complain about these abuses.

To snowmobile the right way and to get maximum enjoyment and zero complaints from the neighbors, the best thing is to join a club. These clubs have family picnics, baseball games on ice activities for kids, dances, etc. They really have a good time.

All of the club encourage the youngsters to take a safety course that is designed specifically for them. You have to have proof of insurance to join. The yearly dues are usually very minimal and well worth it. The clubs lay out marked trails, first gaining property

Richard Abbott

Marine Lance Cpl. Richard A. Abbott, son of Keith E. and Erla M. Abbott of 316 Lakeshore Drive, Lindenhurst, was meritoriously promoted to his present rank upon graduation from the Basic Supply Stock Control Course.

The seven-week course was conducted at the Marine Corps Service Support School at the Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune, N.C. The course was designed to prepare students for future assignment to supply administration and operation duties.

Students received instruction in the use of supply publications and catalogs, plus preparation and filing of naval correspondence and directives. Their studies centered on the procedures used in the Marine Corps to receive, issue, control and account for government property.

A 1979 graduate of Antioch Community High School, Antioch, he joined the Marine Corps in August 1979. His wife, Susan, is the daughter of Julian A. and Carol A. Stafford of 2503 Magnolia Lane, also of Lindenhurst.

owner's permission and showing proof that their members are insured and guaranteeing that there will be no trespassing on any other area than the marked trails.

These clubs also will check out the lakes for safety and know where the ice is safe and what areas are not. The condition of the ice is of the utmost importance. We have had some tragedies that could have been avoided if those involved had this information.

There are several clubs in the Antioch area, if you are interested or have regular company who wants to snowmobile, try joining a club. Most only meet once a month. Here is a short list of some of them. Halings Honkers 395-2250, Val and Dales 395-6214, Sno-Chiefs 395-9723 and the Northshore

Two-Lighters 395-2324.

If you give any of these numbers a call, you can get further information.

Whatever winter sport you decide to enjoy, be careful and have a good time.

Church women to meet

The United Methodist Women will hold their first meeting of 1981 at noon, Jan. 7, in Wesley Hall of the Antioch United Methodist Church, 848 Main St., Antioch.

Ella Mae Bruhl of the Elgin District Office will speak on Missions. Belinda Dittman will lead the devotionals.

All women of the church and community are invited to be a part of this group.

In the early eighteenth century, France became the first country to forbid barbers to perform surgery.

Students perform on PM&L stage

The Wilmot High Dramatic Arts class will perform at the PM&L Theatre in Antioch on Sunday, Jan. 11. An 8 p.m. curtain time is planned, with no admission charge.

The class will present the one-act play "Two Sides of Darkness" for the membership of PM&L plus the general public. The play is directed by Tom Hausman, Antioch resident, veteran Wilmot High School drama coach and PM&L board of directors member.

The play will be the class's chance to show off its acquired skills from dramatic arts class. Parents and friends are urged to come to see the young performers in a unique theatrical atmosphere.

The cast is: the three women, Maureen Meegan, Tracy Brower and Patti McKinney; Melana, Lorelei Fredrick; Lysander, Nathan Stevens; their son, Mark Billings; Bert, Dan Lynam; Jenny, Shannon Sherwood; and her mother, Sharon Rust.

The chorus includes: Brenda Baker, Annette Barr, Brenda Lawrence, Patty O'Brien, Diane Fornero, Trish Faber, Yvonne Bailitz, Shelly Isbrandt, Lee Kraft, Linda Mueller, Laura Hautzinger, Ann McGregor, Kelly Quinn and Kelly Riley.

The play examines love and war, and recalls the origins of modern theatre by employing a Greek-type chorus to move along the plot and to ask and answer questions. The play is a unique blend of the past and the present.

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

Well, another year's slipped by, and 1980's gone forever. I don't know how you welcomed in the New Year, but they sure had a wing-ding at the Antioch Senior Center, complete with Father Time and little Baby New Year.

Two of the last worthy causes served by our local service organizations at the end of 1980 mustn't go unheralded.

The Antioch Lions Club delivered 45 baskets to needy families in the area to make their holidays just a little bit cheerier.

Rich Kufalk, Dave Heath, Jim Fields and Tom Haley were on this committee.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars, Sequoit Post 4551 also brought yuletide cheer to those less fortunate by delivering baskets.

Those on the receiving end wish to thank the VFW, especially John Craner, Ed Palinski, Scott John and Adam Wojcik, who were on that committee.

My editor wishes me to make a correction on last week's article concerning the proposed advent of the Jewel-Osco commercial complex.

It is estimated that the complex will bring $15 million in additional sales to Antioch.

Another typographical error in the same story concerns the misprinting of the $572,000 in sales tax receipts brought in per year by the present downtown retailers.

It looks like wedding bells will be ringing for Linda Boyd and Mike Gutowski.

Congratulations to them both. I hear the wedding will be held at St. Peter's on March 21 and the reception will be at Harbor Ridge Country Club. It couldn't happen to a nicer couple!

More congrats are in order down at the village hall. It seems that Dee Lang, our parks program director is eating for two.

The blessed event should take place sometime in September.

To make older brother Derek happy, the baby better resemble that fire truck he's been wanting.

I miss Laddie Korecek's smiling face on the main streets in Antioch since he's moved out to Harbor Ridge, but I especially miss those little "scoops" he used to slip me when he was "the man about town."

Sure is a lot of hullabaloo going on at the village board meetings nowadays.

One citizen told me he wondered why the village board had done their homework so well on the Con Ed raise hike and failed to so on problems that are much dearer to the hearts of Antiochans, such as the mayoral pay and commercial complex disputes.

When I think about it

Gloria tells one more favorite Christmas story

by GLORIA DAVIS

Over the years I've heard of fantastic Christmas presents that other people have received that have lit the green lights of envy flashing in my jealous little eyes and started those "have not pains" shooting through my avaricious heart.

THERE WAS the time I read about an oil tycoon that bought his girlfriend a gate-legged bathtub full of diamonds and the time some movie star bought his mom and dad an island in the South Pacific.

And I remember reading and hearing stories over the years of gifts of fabulous furs and terrific trips around the world that made me very happy for the recipients, not quite as happy of course as I would have been if I had been on the receiving end.

But this year my favorite "present" story was not quite as materialistic as the above, although I'm sure the cost was substantial enough.

IT SEEMS a local family, whose children are grown, were planning their annual present opening ceremony on Christmas Eve, but this time they were going to celebrate at the home of the eldest married son instead of at the usual place, "the old homestead."

The mother and father arrived that evening to be greeted by three of their four children and a warm and charming Christmas scene complete with roaring fire in the fireplace and an old-fashioned Christmas tree with presents heaped in front of it.

There was a huge box, gayly wrapped, standing off to the side, which wasn't given a second thought, since this family made a habit of giving such things as eight foot tall armored soldiers and grandfather clocks.

THE ELDEST son announced almost immediately upon the parents arrival, that a special gift had been gotten this year and that mom and dad should open it first.

The mother, curiously approached the box wondering, "my God, what have they bought this year and where am I going to put it? Maybe somewhere between the grand piano, the grandfather's clock and the armored man."

The father, like all males who are not particularly excited at the thought of Christmas, ambled across the room slowly.

MOMS CURIOSITY got the better of her while she was waiting for dad and she peeked into the top of the box and everything went up for grabs.

Within seconds dad was picking her up off the floor, the box exploded and inside was their son, who was in the Navy and hadn't been home for three Christmases, his wife and the grandson they had never seen.

The two brothers and sister had pooled their money and pulled a few strings and brought them halfway around the world to give their parents the nicest Christmas present possible.

ANYONE WHO knows me personally has already guessed that this year I didn't have to dream of wonderful ridiculous presents because this was the present that our kids got my husband and myself.

I hope this personal story didn't bore you but I just had to tell everyone about my merriest Christmas ever and wish you all a happy New Year, excuse me now while I play grandmother.

U of I to sponsor farm conferences

The University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service in McHenry County will sponsor one of 10 Management, Financial and Political Strategies conference to be held across the state during January and February.

With inflation, rising costs and lower yields this past season in many areas, plus fluctuating prices and the changing political pictures, many farmers face great uncertainty as they look ahead, Bob Schmerbauch, Lake County Extension adviser explains.

Four experienced U of I agricultural economists will discuss some of the crucial decisions facing farmers this winter as they plan their 1981 farming operations.

Allan G. Mueller, farm management specialists, will discuss management and investment planning, financing 1981 farming operations, and deciding about long range farm investments.

Thomas L. Frey, agricultural finance specialist, will provide guidelines on how to work with lenders to acquire the needed funds for farm operations in 1981 and beyond.

Royce A. Hinton, farm management specialist, will look at crop production and market planning as a joint decision process, crop choices and crucial operation decisions.

Harold D. Guither, extension economist in public policy, will discuss how government program will affect 1981 farming decisions, how farmers view current food and agricultural issues, and prospects for new farm

LIQUOR ON CAMPUS

Illinois Atty. Gen. Tyrone C. Fahner has advised in a formal legal opinion that the governing body of a state university is not required to obtain local or state liquor licenses in order to sell alcoholic liquor on its campus. Fahner observed that such sale of liquor by university personnel is permitted under exceptions to the Illinois Liquor Control Act. However, he noted, that if the university arranges the sale of liquor on its campus through a club or lessee, the club or lessee would be required to obtain both local and state liquor licenses and be subject to local regulation.

legislation in the coming year.

Time is planned so that conference participants can ask each of the speakers questions.

Both farm operators and their wives are invited to this day long conference that begins at 9 a.m. at the VFW Hall in Woodstock on Jan. 14, 1981.

Lunch will be served so reservations should be made with the Lake County Extension Adviser, 310 N. Highway 45, Grayslake, IL 60030 or phone 223-8627.

Sequoit's hopes high, as they take on Warren

The Antioch Varsity basketball team is now "even Steven" when it comes to wins and losses for the season so far.

They were a "ten", but in the losing column, after losing two games in the Rockford Tournament, bowing to Freeport, 59-49, and taking in on the chin 56-46 against Loves Park Harlem.

Coach Roger Andrews feels that he now has a more experienced team with the early season fouling problem having been corrected.

Andrews hopes for their upcoming game, Friday, Jan. 9, against the Warren Blue Devils, somewhat depend on whether or not his guards can take play pressures such as the different kinds of presses that Warren is expecting to use against them.

Friday's game will be played on the Blue Devil's home court and Andrews says, "They'll be hard to beat at home."

The Sequoits have a height edge but the Blue Devils are "defensively aggressive," says the Antioch coach.

Of course Antioch's inches edge could diminish if their big players foul out as they have in the past, as a large part of Antioch's standing depends on this game.

Antioch's female cagers take tourney second

Starting off with a 55-50 victory against Waukegan East, Antioch Community High School's girl's varsity basketball team marched on to second place in the North Chicago Holiday Tournament.

Although Antioch lead through most of the game against Waukegan, many turnovers had them on shaky ground till they put it back together towards the end of the game.

The Sequoits then took A.A. Stagg by a close two points, beating them, 47-45, after a hard playing Stagg team came from behind in the last quarter to tie Antioch, 45-45, and with just seconds to go Kathy Bailey sank a 12 footer to win the game.

During the semi-finals, played on Tuesday, Dec. 30, the female Sequoits, notched a 54-35 victory against the Warren Blue Devils, with Tracey Manuel scoring 25 points and the defense playing a tight game.

But Antioch's winning streak ran out when they came up against Chicago Christian, losing a close one as they bowed 44-41, in the championship game.

This time Antioch was behind at half time, 22-17, but they soon shortened the opposition's lead to a three pointer by whittling the score to 30-27 as they final quarter began.

But Christian again took a 40-33 lead with two and a half minutes remaining in the final quarter.

With less than a minute remaining, Bailey closed the margin to 42-39 and Manuel cut the lead even more, by sinking two free throws with 21 seconds left in the game.

But Antioch's hopes were short lived as a missed bonus throw rebound was tossed in by Christian with two seconds remaining, giving them the win, 44-41.

Sequoit Coach Lorraine Dresser was pleased with her team's final second place standing, crediting a strong defense and "team effort" for their success.

Miss Flora DeVoss is coming to the Crystal next week. The popular actress will appear here with the Rotnour players in "Joan of the North". Tuesday night there will be an extra amount of vaudeville introduced between the acts. There will be two solid hours of clean amusement, Mr. Rotnour says.

Clarence D. Foth, former Antioch businessman and local ticket agent for the Metropolitan Motor Coach Company, who was arrested this morning for an alleged shortage of $357.24 due the motor coach company, was released on bond. The alleged shortage occurred in Foth's report of August 14. Subsequent business had been found to be satisfactory, and it is quite possible that in the event Foth is able to square matters with the company he will be released and the case dropped.

One of Lake County's best athletes, Jim McMillen, former All-American football player and captain at the University of Illinois, seems to be headed for a top-rung position in the wrestling game. Jim, who is known all over the state for his prowess has been tossing the big fellows all over the ring in his last few engagements.

Charles Cobb has renewed his subscription to the Antioch News for another year. "I arranged to subscribe for the paper before the first issue was ever published in 1886," he said. Mr. Cobb, of course, is a booster of the paper and every year he renews his subscription, he feels he is just repeating a pleasant habit.

The First National Bank of Antioch will hold open house on January 9 to celebrate 25 years in business. Six employees are now required to handle the business of the bank, as opposed to the two who were employed when the bank first opened.

Karen Lightsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Lightsey was chosen Grand Prize winner for Christmas Day on the Mary Hartline show. Her letter on "Why She Liked the Program" won her the honor, also a bicycle and the surprise telephone call for that day.

Eugene O. Hawkins, one of Antioch's oldest residents, celebrated his 91st birthday, Dec. 31, with an open house. Mr. Hawkins is truly a pioneer of Western Lake County, having been born in 1859 in a log cabin on Grand Ave., near route 59. This farm is now known as Hawkins Hill. He has what is probably the largest number of direct descendants in this part of the county, numbering eight children, 29 grandchildren and 47 great-grandchildren.

10 YEARS AGO: JANUARY 7, 1971

A queen will be chosen to reign over the many events and activities of the second Annual Fox Lake Snowmobile National on Jan. 30 and 31. Among the judges will be Mayor Ray Toft of Antioch, Mayor Joseph Armondo of Fox Lake, Round Lake Mayor and Harry Robin, Grant Township Supervisor.

Antioch enjoyed its largest building boom since 1963 in the year ended based on figures compiled by the village's building department.

The village of Antioch is being sued for $50,000 by a woman who claims she suffered injuries to her back, legs, hip, neck, arms and internal injuries when she fell on the sidewalk in front of the Scout building after attending a meeting of the Antioch Woman's Club.

Aided by big Keith Bolton, Antioch High School won the consolation crown in the Rockford Classic by defeating Winnebago 84 to 72.

Miranda in Western Pacific

Marine Lance Cpl. James J. Miranda, son of James H. and Linda Miranda of 410 Beck Rd., Lindenhurst, deployed to the Western Pacific.

He is a member of Battery A, Battalion Landing Team one third, based at the Marine Corps Air Station, Kaneohe Bay Hawaii.

His battery is part of the ground element of the 31st Marine Amphibious Unit (MAU). The 31st MAU is force-in-readiness for the 7th Fleet and is embarked aboard ships specially designed to transport combat troops.

Since departing Hawaii for the six-month deployment, his unit has participated in exercise, "Valiant Blitz" in the Philippines. A combined amphibious landing exercise, "Valiant Blitz" involved 16 U.S. Navy ships, 5,000 U.S. Marines and forces from the Republic of the Philippines. The exercise provided the participating forces with experience in amphibious landing techniques and combined operations ashore.

During the remainder of the cruise, his unit will be participating in additional training exercises, and have the opportunity to visit several Far Eastern countries during port calls.

A 1977 graduate of Lane Technical High School, Chicago, Miranda joined the Marine Corps in April, 1977.

HOLIDAY CHEER

On Dec. 23, Sequoit Post 4551 Veterans of Foreign Wars delivered Christmas baskets to bring a Merry Christmas to needy families in Antioch. John Craner, Ed Palinski, Scott John and Adam Wojcik were the committee in charge. After delivering the baskets they said it made their day as they were greeted and thanked by each one that received the baskets. This is a part of the organization's community service program.

On commercial complex State Bank states position

With the Antioch Village Board having announced that they are negotiating with Jewel-Osco in reference to bringing a commercial complex to the north side of the village, and with the board having also announced that they are proposing the use of Industrial Revenue Bonds as an enticement for Jewel-Osco to locate in the village of Antioch, many members of the retail community as well as the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry, have stated their opposition to the use of Industrial Revenue Bonds to bring the commercial complex to town.

The following is a copy of a letter written by Andrew Bernhardt, executive vice-president of the State Bank of Antioch, to the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry on the subject.

December 29, 1980

Mr. Dan Dugenske, President
Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry
Village Hall
Antioch, IL 60002

Dear Dan:

We are in receipt of the minutes of the Board meetings of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry for the meetings of December 15, 1980 and December 19, 1980. In addition, we have read the letter which was written by Mark McKinney, First Vice President, dated December 12, 1980.

From these documents it would appear that the Chamber of Commerce is engaged in discussion with the Village of Antioch with regard to the proposed development of a parcel of property at the corner of North Ave. and Illinois Route 83 into a shopping center which would include a major grocery store outlet and a major discount store. It has also been stated that some consideration is being given to financing the building of this shopping center including water and sewer with $15,000,000 issue of industrial revenue bonds issued by the Village of Antioch which would have a tax exempt interest rate.

I have discussed this development with several of our retail customers as well as with Mayor Mike Haley. The Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry should know that we, at the State Bank of Antioch, are not against the development of this property into a retail area, and we are not opposed to growth in the community including the retail sector. We do not, however, believe it is appropriate that Industrial Revenue Bonds be issued by the Village of Antioch to finance a retail store building. The major portion of a retail store's overhead cost in the early years of its existence is usually associated with the interest costs of the loan used to finance the building. This is true whether the building is leased from a developer or owned outright by the store proprietor. Under these circumstances, allowing a retail establishment to borrow at a tax exempt rate would give that store a substantial reduction in overhead that would make it much easier for a retail store to become profitable in the early years of its existence. In our judgment, it could be considered prejudicial for the Village of Antioch to offer the tax exempt financing advantage to one retail store without offering it to every retailer within the city limits. In addition, using industrial revenue bonds for the construction of additional retail space would seem to be contrary to the spirit of the tax law allowing municipalities to issue industrial development bonds. It was intended that these bonds be used to create additional employment in the industrial sector of our economy.

It is our desire, therefore, that you and the other members of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry work with the Village to find ways to use industrial revenue bond financing as a means of attracting manufacturing plants and, therefore, more jobs to the Village of Antioch.

Sincerely yours,

Andrew B. Bernhardt

NEXT WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

By Clay Pollan

FOR RELEASE WEEK OF JAN. 12, 1981

If your birthdate occurs this week ...
This week the stars all enhance Business, home and new romance

Aries Mar. 21 - Apr. 19 Mars
While few can beat the Arian Ram for sheer adventurousness, the unwary person can be sheared a bit too close for comfort. Still, all the stars love a sheepish lover — and prove it this week.

Taurus Apr. 20 - May 20 Venus
The winsome Taurus can win some lovely rewards for his or her patience. (On that personal relationship level, strike now while the iron's hot or the pressing problem will continue, adding to a rumpled condition.)

Gemini May 21 - June 20 Mercury
That change in your job status can be the boost off the roost you need at this point in your life. Holding onto something "secure" isn't always the safe thing to do.
Your personal life will make a turn for the better.

Cancer June 21 - July 22 Moon
The starshine warms up personal relationships this week. Single Moon Children can find new love while the married Cancerians can bask in renewed and re-enforced affection. (Stroking strokes the home fires best.)

Leo July 23 - Aug. 22 Sun
Cold weather makes Leos a bit loath to try new adventures. But the promised rewards tickle the fancy of a fanciful cat. Married Leos might surprise their mate with a gala evening. Single Leos know what to do!

Virgo Aug. 23 - Sept. 22 Mercury
The new job you might try has one drawback: distance.
But if it doesn't upset your mate, take it. Distance, in this instance, can bring your long-awaited goals much closer to fulfillment.

Libra Sept. 23 - Oct. 22 Venus
Making your occupation your sole preoccupation finally takes a back seat to the emergence of a new priority:
yourself. Take more time off when you can. Mate or lover will be happy whenever you do.

Scorpio Oct. 23 - Nov. 21 Pluto
Although the stars indicate favorable positions for romantic and other endeavors, endeavor to take some action yourself. What you want can be found — but delaying can find you foundering in your pursuits.

Sagittarius Nov. 22 - Dec. 21 Jupiter
The "sage" Sagittarian can add some spice to his or her life this week. Get out of the rut and into the groove. Your star signs signal a change ahead. Follow the direction indicated. And no detours, please!

Capricorn Dec. 22 - Jan. 19 Saturn
Somebody certainly does love you. But you have to start encouraging him or her to speak up. Sometimes you can be a bit intimidating and you'll never be dating that timid one unless he/she has chance to tell all.

Aquarius Jan. 20 - Feb. 18 Uranus
Your soft touches in a situation do a lot to move things along. But don't be discouraged at an occasional slowdown. Sometimes nature has to take its course. Be patient. Your rewards will be waiting.

Pisces Feb. 19 - Mar. 20 Neptune
The Piscean Fishes find the currents much easier to move through this week. Taking advantage of opportunities now may make it easier to land the big catches later. (The intentions of a Leo are tender.)
